CIBA President Newscast for July 2024 – delivered monthly when there's no BEELINE

From the Central Iowa Beekeepers Association (CIBA) President:

CIBA members –

The major news that I want to highlight this month is our upcoming CIBA Field Day at the Iowa Arboretum on Saturday July 20th. Please register but remember there is no charge to participate and have lunch on CIBA. The link to register is CIBA Field Day 2024 | CIBA \(centraliowabeekeepersassoc.org\)

The other news that I want to mention is this has been a very slow year for the production of honey for myself and friends here in central Iowa. However, this recent hot weather may have turned things around.

Wax moths have shown up for me in some of my stored brood comb. So, implement your protection methods now if you are storing comb.

Hope to see everyone at the CIBA Summer Field Day on July 20th. Thanks for being a member.

Your President, Jamie
